I understand and agree to the following:

The Monroe University housing program requires that resident students maintain good academic standing with excellent attendance in classes and a grade point average of 2.0 or higher each semester. Resident students are also required to comply with all university and residence life policies, procedures and community standards. The residence halls close in August at the end of the Spring semester and reopen in September at the start of the Fall semester, during which time students are expected to live off campus.
