MAKE YOUR DREAM OF BECOMING AN NYS SCHOOL TEACHER COME TRUE.

If you're thinking about making a difference in your community, the School of Education (SED) at Monroe University may have just what you need to get to the head of the class.

Our early childhood education and childhood education degree programs can help talented high school students answer that call, providing the robust curriculum, practical classroom experience, and professional credentials needed to become a competent, confident teacher who is ready to make a real difference in a young child's life.

SPECIAL GRANTS MAY COVER UNDERGRADUATE TUITION

Monroe University also offers a range of scholarship opportunities for qualified students. We invite you to apply and take the next step toward becoming an educator.

+ Choose between a degree in:
  - Early Childhood Education (birth-2nd grade) or
  - Childhood Education (1st-6th grade)
+ Our 15 credit Bilingual-Extension program, for Spanish/English speakers can give your resume an extra boost by providing one of the most sought-after credentials by New York's highneeds schools.
+ Our three-semester academic calendar gives you the opportunity to graduate, earn your license, and start teaching in three years or less!
+ Our teaching assistant and paraprofessional undergraduate program has Saturday, inperson classes and flexible general education courses so that professionals can earn their degree around a traditional school schedule.

Interested in learning more:
Contact: Lalie Dimond,
Director, Enrollment Management
914.740.6537 / edimond@monroeu.edu

MONROE UNIVERSITY

Certification test preparation is embedded in all courses to ensure students graduate from all programs, fully certified

87%
of our 2024-2026 students have become certified teachers

94%
of our 2024-2026 students have become head teachers in classrooms within New York City and the surrounding area

Students travel through the program in a cohort to develop a strong, peer network

All faculty are practitioners with advanced degrees and have or are currently serving as administrators and educators

100%
of students complete over 600 hours of fieldwork and student teaching experiences to gain hands-on, real-life teaching experience throughout our programs

Small classes
maximize student learning

All faculty hold an open-door policy so that they can support students each step of the way until graduation

School of Education has been accredited and noted as a provider of excellence by the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP)

Our classes are interactive to actively engage students in their courses

The School of Education has over 60 school partners in district-based, charter, and pre-kindergarten schools within New York City and the surrounding areas for students to complete their clinical experiences

$70,000 is the average salary for our 2024 undergraduate graduates

MONROE UNIVERSITY

1.800.556.6676 / www.monroeu.edu